

TASC TESTING

March 16, 2017

TASC Testing (formerly known as the GED) is scheduled at Clay County High School on Thursday, March 16 beginning at 8:30 a.m. The TASC Test is FREE to anyone. However, candidates must first pass a TASC Readiness Assessment and meet certain requirements prior to registering to take the official TASC Test. Free classes are available Monday through Friday at the Valley Fork Learning Center, provided by Clay County Adult Education/RESA. Online preparation classes are also available. If your scores meet the minimum requirements, you may take the official test without taking classes. You may contact the Adult Education Instructor, James Adkins, at the Valley Fork Learning Center located at Wallback (Old Valley Fork Elementary) at 587-1191 to schedule a time to take the TASC Readiness Assessment and for additional information about TASC classes as well as the official TASC Test. Classes and assistance are also available to prepare for the next step of entering college or finding a job.

Take advantage of this great opportunity to open doors to a better future!
