Greetings from Joe Manchin United States Senator

Celebrating Dr. Seuss Week

As written by Dr. Seuss, "The more that you read, the more things you'll know.
The more that you learn, the more places you'll go."

It is vital that we instill a sense of drive in our students that will encourage their creativity and confidence so they can accomplish whatever they set out to do in life. They deserve the opportunity to be well-rounded and balanced in all facets of education and life and I commend all of our state's educators and staff for all they do, as well as for celebrating the creative, encouraging wisdom of Dr. Seuss this week.

To our students - Never stop asking questions. Continue to wonder, study hard, and know that each and every one of you has a bright future ahead.

With warmest regards,
